

ACO CODE OF ETHICS

ACO Members practicing optometry will strive for excellence in delivering eyecare to the whole community.

ACO Members practising optometry will:

1. Practise in accordance with professional standards and adhere to the Optometry Board of Australia Code of Conduct for Optometrists;
2. Act in the best interests of their patients irrespective of their social or ethnic background, gender, disability, age, sexuality, health status or ability to pay;
3. Act in an honest and conscientious way and to conduct themselves to the best of their ability so as to earn the trust of patients and the community;
4. Hold in professional confidence all information concerning a patient;
5. Respect patients' autonomy and dignity and ensure they are properly informed about their clinical conditions so that they can make their own informed decisions about appropriate treatments;
6. Strive to enhance their knowledge and skill so as to ensure that their patients receive the benefits of the advances in the profession;
7. Work within their level of professional competence and not misrepresent their competence or qualifications;
8. Refer patients to a colleague or to another health care practitioner whenever the skills and knowledge of the colleague or other practitioner are needed to resolve the visual or health problems of the patient;
9. Share with their colleagues their learning and knowledge to maintain and promote relationships with colleagues and members of other professions;
10. Advocate and promote adherence to the highest standards of optometric care by the profession.
